

Anthoussa Diakopoulou – Iliopoulou

Anthoussa Diakopoulou–Iliopoulou was born in Athens. She studied History at Deree College, The American College of Greece. Upon completion of her Master Degree on Balkan History at SSEES-University of London, she conducted research at King's College - University of London on Women's Education in Greece. She has taught history at Deree College and the University of Helsinki. She has organized seminars on Greek history, culture and language in Helsinki, Cape Town, Copenhagen, and Athens. She is married to the Consul General of Greece in New York, Ambassador Georgios Iliopoulos. They have two children.