

Catch Me by Yiannis Kaminiis, acrylic on canvas, size: 120x90cm (estimated value $5,000).

The red figure on the left represents the energy dynamic of the earth energy and it operates as a male figure (any known and definite warrior, lover and scientist of the unknown). The figure of the indefinite woman is created on the right with colors of gold to denote spirituality, feelings and the unattainable qualities and values every woman possesses. The two find harmony in a scene of turquoise green in the background denoting their will for love in unison from earth to the sky.
